Graceland A Nigerian teenager leaves his troubled home and reflects on his past before finally leaving Nigeria in search of a better life.

Chris Abani (Author of GraceLand) - Goodreads

Abani's best-selling 2004 novel GraceLand is a searing and funny tale of a young Nigerian boy, an Elvis impersonator who moves through the wide, wild world of Lagos, slipping between pop and traditional cultures, art and crime. It's a perennial book-club pick, a story that brings the postcolonial African experience to vivid life.

Amazon.com: GraceLand: A Novel (9780374165895): Abani ...

Chris Abani's GraceLand is the story of sixteen-year-old Elvis, a Nigerian teenager living in Lagos in 1983 who wants nothing more than to be an Elvis Presley impersonator. That summary alone is what got me to pick up Abani's novel, but what is even more impressive than Elvis's characterization is the cultural and worldly scope in which Abani crafts Elvis's story.

Graceland - Chris Abani

Graceland One of my favorite postcolonial novels powerful, intricate and hilarious. Chris Abani is a true wordsmith.

"Writers are dangerous," so says A.S. Byatt, and when you read Chris Abani you see exactly how the truth can kill. Abani's stories show us life balanced on the blade of a knife. His novel, Graceland, chronicles a dark page of Nigeria's history as we follow a young boy learning to live and love in the turbulent eighties.

Chris Abani: Department of English - Northwestern University

Christopher Abani (born 27 December 1966) is a Nigerian and American author. He says he is part of a new generation of Nigerian writers working to convey to an English-speaking audience the experience of those born and raised in "that troubled African nation".

GraceLand Study Guide: Analysis | GradeSaver

Chris Abani's graceland is a richly detailed, poignant, and utterly fascinating look into another culture and how it is cross-pollinated by our own. It brings to mind the work of Ha Jin in its power and revelation of the new. T. Coraghessan Boyle, Author of Drop City To say that this is a Nigerian or African novel is to miss the point.
